

Short Reflection: What did you learn from this activity?

Working on this project showed me how challenging it was to create your own website. I learned that it's not just about doing things, but it's about thinking carefully through each step or process. Being thorough and detail-oriented is really important to getting a good outcome. I also learned to handle my doubts and confusions while doing this project— which wasn't easy but I managed. I'm thankful for the lessons I learned from school, which helped me create my personal website. I also learned that one mistake can make a big difference, so being careful is the key. Overall, the project was tough, but I enjoyed learning, especially since it's something I'm enthusiastic about.